Congress Gives Approval to Conscription

100 Years Old

Mrs. Susan Van Meter, above, is observing her 100th birthday today in her home near Aroma Park. Because of ill health since Aug. 28, there is to be no special party although her family is spending the day with her and there is a birthday cake. Until recently Mrs. Van Meter has been in excellent health. She suffered a broken hip when she was 90 years old and fully recovered. She spends the winter with her son Gregory in Chicago. There are five generations of girls in the family. Mrs. Van Meter, Mrs. Katherine Russell of Aroma Park, Mrs. Jessie Lane of Chicago, Mrs. Robert Friedlander and her daughter Joan, six years old. All have summer homes in Aroma Park. Mrs. Van Meter attributes her longevity to hard work having lived on a farm most of her life. She was born Sept. 14, 1840 at Joliet.

Irwin Witt Is Again Head Of Red Cross Drive

National Speaker Tells Of Needs In Devastated Countries

Irwin Witt, chairman of the Red Cross roll call campaign last fall, was elected to the post at a meeting of the board of directors of the county chapter Friday noon in McBroome's cafe. He will direct the 1940 roll call which begins Nov. 11.

At yesterday's meeting, George Hubert representative of the national Red Cross office at St. Louis, told of the increased responsibilities of the organization will have during the coming year when conscription takes many young men away from their families, making home service work necessary.

Also cited were the urgent needs of the British people, thousands of whom had their homes and all their belongings demolished, and of the 80,000 Finns evacuated from the area ceded to the Soviet Union under the peace terms Russia dictated.

Food For Finns
A shipment of 15,000 tons of food, clothing and bedding having a total value of $1,000,000 is now being prepared for Finland and will be transported to Petsamo within a few weeks. Clothing is the major problem in the bitter winter weather ahead in Finland, Hubert pointed out.

Authority has been cabled the Red Cross agency in England to purchase 12 mobile canteen units of eight vehicles each for use in feeding civilians driven from their homes by air raids. Also authorized was purchase of 25 station wagons for auxiliary hospital trucks as well as quantities of shoes, woolen materials and medical supplies.

Warehouse Empty
The Red Cross warehouse in New Jersey is practically empty, Hubert stated, with shipments being sent on every boat leaving for England. Already 500,000 chapter-made and purchased garments have been sent to the homeless in Britain. The Kankakee county chapter has contributed its share of home-made garments and is continuing this work under direction of Mrs. A. W. DeSelm, assisted by many women workers.

Guests at yesterday's meeting were Walter Swan and Mrs. Emile Brouillette. A. J. LaBarre was introduced as a new member of the board.

AUTO STOLEN

The auto of Lyle Palmer, 189 North Seventh avenue, was reported stolen last night from West Court street. The sedan delivery truck of Blomdie Mathison, 466 South Dearborn avenue, was found undisturbed at Moonlight Gardens.

Peacetime Draft Legislation To The White House

Requires Registration Of Approximately 16,500,000 Men

Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Peace-time draft legislation, requiring registration of approximately 16,500,000 men 21 through 35 for military training, was finally approved by congress today and dispatched to the White House.

The President's signature enacting it into law is expected to be affixed early next week, setting in motion machinery which will send the first 75,000 draftees to camps in November.

The house took the final legislative step this afternoon when it approved a compromise between senate and house versions of the conscription measure a short time after the senate gave its assent by a 47 to 25 vote.

The roll call vote in the house was announced as 232 to 124.

The final version included provision for the President to take over industrial plants, on a rental basis, when necessary to get defense orders filled expeditiously.

Insist on Clause
The senate's action came after it had sent the bill back to a joint senate and house conference committee by a 37 to 33 vote last night with instructions to its conferees to insist on the adoption of a house-approved clause giving the government power to commandeer industrial plants where the owners proved recalcitrant about accepting or speeding up defense orders.

This provision, much more drastic than a compromise version previously written into the measure by the conferees, was adopted quickly by the joint committee and the measure returned to the senate for action.

The 600-word section which the committee accepted on senate instructions and which threatened to become a part of the bill provided in principle, that once the president had placed a defense order, the manufacturer should accept it at a price declared to be "reasonable" by the secretary of war or the secretary of navy.

If the manufacturer declined to give the government preference on this order, or refused to fill it, the government could step in and operate the plant, paying a "fair and just" compensation. The manufacturer would be subject to maximum penalties of three years imprisonment and $50,000 fine.

This provision contrasted with the committee's compromise version which opponents assailed as "vague" and "unenforceable." That would have authorized the government to take over plants only if the secretary of war or the secretary of navy certified that the public necessity was immediate and there was no other source of supply.

Senator
Senator Russell (D-Ga.), co-author with Senator Overton (D-La.) of the original senate section disapproved by the conferees, led the fight which resulted in the senate vote.

Gleefully, such opponents of conscription as Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.), Clark (D-Mo.) and Norris (IND-Nebr.) jumped into the battle.

Dr. Irvin Mathews Opens Office Here

Dr. Irvin Mathews, chiropodist, has opened an office in the Arcade building.

Dr. Mathews is a Kankakee boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Mathews, 84 East Court street. He was a graduate of St. Viator college in 1931. He had one year of post graduate work at the University of Chicago and then graduated from the Illinois College of Chiropody.

Dr. Mathews has been appointed to the staff of the Illinois College of Chiropody where he will teach one day each week.

Friday the 13th holds no qualms for Mr. and Mrs. Dean Madison, 693 South Evergreen avenue. In fact, it brought them much joy, for at 9:30 o'clock last evening in St. Mary hospital they became the parents of a son.

Blitzkrieg Staged By Woodpeckers

Cortland, N. Y., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A new siding was placed on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sampson today after the Sampsons threw up their hands in despair at a blitzkrieg staged by woodpeckers.

"Why it's been terrible," Mrs. Sampson complained. "They start at daylight, six or eight of them at a time, and bang away until dusk. The folks who lived here before us shot 25 or 30, but just as many more came back. They have been busy since last March."

Sampson admitted he tried a gun and also hung poison meat on the walls.

"You can shoot away all you want at them," he said, "but before you are inside the house they are hammering away again. As far as poison salt pork is concerned, they are too smart to touch it."

Sampson viewed the job of placing asbestos cement shingles on his house and commented:

"If they get through that, I certainly don't know what we can do."

Second Trial Of Jack Russell Is Near Conclusion

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The second trial of Jack Russell on kidnapping charges neared its conclusion today before a jury of seven women and five men in Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward's court.

Several Oklahoma state prison convicts were the only remaining defense witnesses. They were called to testify as to Russell's mental condition at the time he escaped from the prison July 11, 1939, and began a mad dash toward Chicago. Russell then was serving 10 years for robbery.

The government charged that enroute he kidnapped William Scott Hamilton, Arkansas City, Kan., salesman, near Pittsburg, Kan., and fatally shot him July 14, 1939 near Ringwood, Ill.

Last Nov. 22 a jury condemned Russell to die for the crime but the U. S. circuit court of appeals granted him a new trial. The present trial which began Tuesday has been a virtual duplication of the first one.

Midshipmen Will "Drop Anchor" On The N. W. Campus

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Four hundred midshipmen will "drop anchor" on the Chicago campus of Northwestern university Monday in preparation for the opening sessions of the naval reserve midshipmen's school.

The first class, entering Monday, has completed a one-month cruise in Atlantic waters aboard the U. S. S. Arkansas, Wyoming, and New York.

Similar schools will be opened this month in Annapolis and New York City, but the Chicago unit will be the only one operated in conjunction with a university. It will produce 2,000 of the 5,000 new reserve officers which the navy wants this year, training groups of 400 in the fall, winter and spring quarters, and 800 next summer.

By agreement with the navy department Northwestern will furnish housing facilities for the midshipmen in Abbott Hall, the new 20-story dormitory being occupied for the first time this fall.

Aged Man Slays His Son And Then Commits Suicide

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 14.—(UP)—Fred Boeser, 63, shot and killed his son, Emil, 20, and then committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the head, the sheriff's office reported today.

The shooting occurred at the Boeser home at Lumbagh Heights, east of Collinsville.

Boeser used a double barreled shotgun and apparently shot young Boeser twice, the charges striking in the neck just under the chin.

Neighbors heard the shots and started for Collinsville to summon police. The elder Boeser then apparently went to the attic of the home, reloaded the gun with shells he obtained from a small trunk in the attic. He sat on the trunk, pointed the gun at his head and pushed the trigger with his toe.

Sheriff Walter B. Wittman who investigated the case today quoted neighbors as saying the shooting followed a series of quarrels between Boeser, his son and daughter, Anna, 18.

Young Boeser was a Western Union messenger in Collinsville and returned home late last night. The house was in darkness as the elder Boeser had removed the electric fuses. As the son stepped on the porch his father, who was in the living room dressed in night clothes, shot from a distance of about three feet. The son was instantly killed.

The fact Boeser had removed the fuses, making it impossible to turn on the lights, indicates the shooting was premeditated, Sheriff Wittman said.

An inquest was ordered but the time for it was not immediately set. It will be held after Sheriff Wittman completes his investigation.

Final Attempt Predicted For Next 48 Hours

Army, Navy And The R.A.F. Stands Prepared To "Repel Boarders"

BULLETIN
London, Sept. 14.—(P)—The fourth air-raid of the day for the London area was sounded at 6:17 p. m. (11:17 a. m. c.s.t.).

BULLETIN
Berlin, Sept. 14.—London will be bombed relentlessly unless it surrenders, a well-informed source told foreign newspaper men today.

This spokesman declared that one-third of England's war potentials are stored within the British capital, as well as 45 per cent of the nation's imports, and that the city therefore is a military objective of the first magnitude.

"No city of the future will be built along London's lines," he said.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Neutral military observers predicted that the next 48 hours would be a period of intense danger of invasion to Britain as the Nazi air force rounded out a week of steady mass attacks on London today.

An authorized German spokesman said, however, that Adolf Hitler alone would determine when Britain is ripe for the final assault.

"Cautioning against the futility of speculation on 'Nazi time schedules,' the spokesman said Hitler would 'not be hurried' in setting the zero hour for the long-expected invasion."

While Nazi military circles contended their aerial preparation was well in hand, Britain still stoutly resisted.

More Open to Assault
The Germans said a sign of the growing effectiveness of their raids was the shifting of Britain's air defenses to the London area, thus leaving the rest of Britain more open to assault.

The British, however, told of meeting the German raiders with a veritable aerial "minefield" of anti-aircraft shells.

Dropping of German bombs in west London yesterday was acknowledged with the Germans coming over at 10 to 15-minute intervals, but no reports of serious or widespread damage were made.

Commenting on the German bombing of Buckingham Palace yesterday, the London Daily Mail declared editorially that attempts to assassinate heads of states were part of the calculated policy of what it called "The Berlin Barbarians."

"The Germans said bombs dropped 'in the vicinity of' the royal palace were aimed at oil storage tanks, but the Mail compared the bombing with attacks allegedly directed at King Haakon and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands during Nazi invasion of those countries."

German Objective
The German object, it said, was "to destroy every rallying point of national sentiment and character."

The Golden Text

The presence of the Lord.

"If a man love Me, he will keep My word: and My Father will love him, and We will come unto him, and make Our abode with him:—John 14:23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 15 is Psalm 139, the Golden Text being John 14:23, "If a man love Me, he will keep My word: and My Father will love him, and We will come unto him, and make Our abode with him.")

THIS IS our last lesson on the psalms for some time, and this 139th psalm is a beautiful one with which to close this series of lessons. We do not know when this psalm was written, only from its title we know it to be in the time of David; and nothing in the psalm indicates at what place it was written.

It is written in a devout mood, when the psalmist realized how omniscient—all present—is God; that the creator of man must know everything about him, his bodily makeup, his nature, his soul and spirit.

"Thou knowest my downings and mine uprisings; Thou understandest my thought afar off."

Have you ever tried to read another person's thoughts? All of us have at some time when we were very anxious to get the other's reactions to something. Sometimes we can do it very well, too, when the minds of both of us are occupied by the same trend of thought. But if the person whose thought we are trying to read does not want us to know what he is thinking, he can put on a "poker face," a mask of expressionlessness, and we cannot tell what his thoughts are.

We cannot do that with our Creator. He made us and He knows how our minds work because He created every bit of us. If our thoughts are not good, it is a startling thing to think that they are known—a strong incentive to keep our thoughts on higher things. The psalmist's thought goes further, to the impossibility of escaping or hiding from the Maker. We can hide from our parents, from our playmates and friends. We can often hide from the government for a time, at least, if we have done enough wrong to warrant police search for us. But from the Maker of all we cannot hide. In most beautiful language the psalmist illustrates this thought:

"Whither shall I go from Thy spirit?
Or whither shall I flee from Thy presence?
If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there:
If I make my bed in Sheol (hell), behold Thou art there.
If I take the wings of the morning,
And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;
Even there shall Thy hand lead me,
And Thy right hand shall hold me.
If I say: Surely the darkness shall overwhelm me,
And the light about me shall be night;
Even the darkness hideth not from Thee.
But the night shineth as the day:
The darkness and the light are both alike to Thee."

This should be a comforting thought, not a frightening one. Weakness and strength—and He is with us always, in darkness and light, in joy and sorrow. Suddenly the psalmist turns from this happy and peaceful thought to one, seemingly of anger and hatred, urging God to slay the wicked and asserting his hatred for the enemies of the Lord. Thinking of God as love, justice, truth, righteousness, it is easy to feel intense anger at the wickedness, hatred, falsehood, cruelty, injustice we see on every hand. We can be filled with love, sympathy and understanding toward all men, but feel still a burning hatred of all this wickedness. Even Jesus showed a righteous anger toward those who defamed God's house, and showed it by driving the cheating money changers from the temple.

The last two verses of the psalm are a prayer and an opening of the heart to Jehovah: "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts:
And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."
Our Golden Text is taken from John 14:23, where Jesus answers one Judas, not Judas Iscariot, saying: If a man love Me, he will keep My words: and My Father will love him, and We will come unto him, and make Our abode with him.

And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

Here 2 Weeks

A two week evangelistic campaign is being undertaken at the Back To The Bible Tabernacle, 165 North Indiana Avenue. The preacher is the popular young minister of the Maywood Gospel Tabernacle, the Rev. Everett Johnson.

Rev. Johnson is a young people's worker having directed several camps in northern Wisconsin. In his work at Maywood he has reached a large number of young people. An orchestra organized from the youth of his church will play several times during the coming campaign. With this and a variety of other features a good musical program is assured.

One of the features of the campaign will be the children's meetings every day at 4:15 o'clock. Mrs. Johnson will assist her husband in this part of the program. The campaign will start Monday night and continue every night for two weeks with the exception of Saturdays.
